Mr. Daniel "Sphinx" Dant is the senior director for space strategy and business development, within KBR's National Security Solutions (NSS) line of business. His focus at KBR is to bring KBR's exceptional data, engineering, and thought leadership capabilities to help solve the NSS enterprise's most difficult problems.

Dan retired as a colonel from the United States Air Force (USAF) in 2016. While in uniform, he served in a variety of key and high-visibility space positions. Mr. Dant is an outstanding graduate of the USAF Weapons School and the National War College. He commanded Air Force units at the squadron, group and wing level, including serving as the commander of the 460th Space Wing at Buckley AFB in Colorado. Dan served as the aide-de-camp to the commander, Air Force Space Command, a chief of staff of the United States Force fellow and was also the director of space policy in the office of the Secretary of Defense.

In industry, Mr. Dant has excelled in several roles and at various levels in the capture, strategy, and business development arenas for the international space market.

Mr. Dant holds degrees and credentials from East Carolina University, Air University, National Defense University, The University of Virginia, George Washington University and Harvard (JFK School of Government).

Dan and his wife, Diana, of 33 years reside in Northern Virginia. They have two adult daughters, Taylor and Olivia.
